

The background of the advertisement is a photograph of the Colosseum in Rome, Italy, taken during the "golden hour" of sunset. The sky is a mix of soft orange, pink, and blue. The Colosseum's arches are silhouetted against the bright sky, and some of the lower levels are illuminated from within, creating a warm glow. In the foreground, there are some dark, tall cypress trees on the left and a few large rocks on the ground.
